Quite Prosperous, Thanks
We Don't NEED a War
Chicago's Busy Day
Unlucky Bolshevik

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

It seems to be prosperous. In fact, 15 citizens told Uncle Sam
that they had a net income of $1,000,000 a year.
This year 207 announced $1-million incomes. More than 800,000
of the people pay no income tax. And for them one in a hundred pay the rest of the total tax. They don't care about it, but many that pay it don't like change places.

ATHEANS at Shanghai ask Uncle Sam to join Britain in an effort to save them. One hundred and fifteen thousand Americans would rather pay taxes than go to the United States.
They would not conquer China without the aid of non-combatants.
Thousands of women and children would not like that job. If they do not need us we do not need them. In any case, we do not want to be a source of non-combatant Chinese.

AMIRAL WILLIAMS says Chinese patrols are indulging in "hate demonstrations" against America. Britain and Japan because of the shooting of Chinese patriots. We might organize "hate demonstrations" here if Asiatics were shooting up Americans, even offering plausible reasons.

THIS is Chicago's busy day and Chicago citizens take the solemn duty
of voting seriously.
Nearly a million votes will be cast
while police with machine guns and other prophylactic apparatus will be out to protect voting citizens or the interest of candidates, as the case may be. And state troops will be held ready to quell any riotous behavior.

A special election grand jury is at hand and a pleasant time is anticipated by all.
THE Bolsheviks are certainly uncouth.
They convict three high Russian agents of taking bribes in connection with a big German lumber trust; and what do you suppose happens? The three officials did not employ good lawyers, express righteous indignation and go to Palm Beach or the Riviera.
They stayed home, were sentenced to death, all their property confiscated,
and they will really be executed.
Russia would be a poor place to visit a naval officer.

GEORGE EASTMAN of Rochester
keeps the recording angel busy, celebrating Beethoven's anniversary.
After African lions and elephants,
gaining education in his home town,
and, now, announcing distribution of $200,000 as a wage dividend among his employees.
In 17 years Mr. Eastman has divided more than $200,000,000 among his employees. He sets a good example and helps prosperity.

THE ideal arrangement would be one under which a workman could increase his own gains by increased concentration and effort and know just what he was earning, like the bookkeeper or newsboy that owns his stand. That, however, is not possible in our form of industry.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE says:
"Familiarity with the scriptures brings culture."
Read the Psalms, Isaiah, Job,
Sermon on the Mount, 10 or 20 times
and you will write better poetry, prose or anything else.

MERCHANTS discuss ways for convincing what they call "Henry Hudson" selling food, clothing and other things to workers at low prices.
The way to fight Ford's methods
would be to undersell him.
THE New York to Chicago air mail service is let to the able Coffin-Henderson concern at $1.24 a pound.
A letter bid at $1.23 was rejected because pilots flying the machines owned by the company.
That should be a reason for giving
it a trial instead of refusing it.
It is a good thing that machines would be out of them and the mail. If the law forbids pilots owning stock in a flying company, that law should be changed.

CHICAGO VOTERS ARE TERRORIZED

Marion Girl Victim of Mysterious Attack

YOUNG WOMAN'S SCREAMS PUT MAN TO FLIGHT

Assailant Makes Getaway
Through Darkness as Men
Respond to Cries

POLICE NOT NOTIFIED

Claims Man Followed Her Two Blocks Before He Grabbed Her

Screams of his intended victim and the prompt response of two men from a nearby house frightened away a thug
who attempted to seize a young woman walking home on Bellefontaine-av. near Windsor-st. late Sunday night. It was revealed today.

George Wright, 556 S. Vine-st., was locking the home of Common Pleas Judge George B. Scofield, 409 Bellefontaine-av. shortly after 11 o'clock Sunday night, as the cries of the girl rang out across the street. Wright, followed by Judge Scofield, rushed across the street, but the man, warned
by the opening of the door, fled through the darkness before they could reach him.

Frightened But Unhurt
The young woman, badly frightened, but otherwise unharmed, was taken into the Scofield home and her parents notified. They took her to her home.
She said the man had followed her for two blocks. He suddenly rushed up and seized her. He tried to stuff her mouth with a handkerchief and her screams were heard across the street,
but she fought him off and called, and when the men rushed out of the house toward the man fled. The girl lives in southwest Marion. No report of the affair was made to police.

190 AUTOISTS DOCKETED
BY POLICE IN MARCH
Monthly Report of Desk Sergeant Shows Five Cars Were Stolen

Automobile owners docketed for alleged traffic code violations during March numbered 190, according to the monthly report of Police Sergeant Wertz, compiled today.

This number included all violations
tagged by police for parking violations
as well as arrests made for more serious traffic offenses. March was the first month of the new traffic court system inaugurated by Municipal Judge Martin, which provides for hearing the general run of traffic cases every Friday. Only a few fines were assessed.
Due to the fact that practically all were first offense cases.

Five autos, valued at $3,000 were stolen during the month and all were recovered, the report shows. Arrests aside from traffic cases totaled 129, 12
liquor searches were made, 163 calls answered by police and 171 complaints received.

Wealthy Eskimo Treated by Radio Instructions from Doctor to Nurse

Seward, Alaska, April 5—Heavy storms and low temperature over the Bering Sea forced Joe Crosson, pilot with the Wilkins Arctic Expedition, to give up his attempt to carry David Seppala, wealthy Eskimo, reported dying on isolated St. Lawrence Island, to Some hospital by plane, it was reported here today.

Seppala was being treated today by radio instructions given by a doctor in Fairbanks to a nurse at the patient's bedside.

Storm conditions will probably cause postponement of the Wilkins polar dash, it was believed.

DENIES GUILT
Man Faces Charge of Poisoning 14-
Year-Old Girl

Medina, April 5—Fred Wilkening, 27, was brought here today to answer
a charge of poisoning Margaret Wazner, 14, who died at her home in Loui-
O. about three weeks ago.
In a death-bed statement, the girl is said to have accused Wilkening of attacking her and later forcing her to take some pills which presumably caused her death.
Wilkening could not be located at
that time.
Arrested in a western city yesterday, he denied all knowledge of the crime to detectives.

Dever, present Chicago mayor,
and Thompson, former executive,
today are battling for the mayoralty
of the Windy City. The campaign has been marked by its fierceness. Violence was feared today. Thompson is a Republican and Dever, a Democrat.

FORD COUNSEL TRACES ACTIVITIES OF SAPIRO

Cites Fact He Received $1,000
for Three-Day American Farm Bureau Meet

Federal Building, Detroit, Apr. 5—Swinging from the snowy cotton beds of the south to the golden grain belt of the middle west, counsel for Henry Ford today traced the purse-filling activities of Anton Sapiro, recalled
wheat king for the benefit of the jury in the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

On the witness stand for his sixth
day of cross-examination, Sapiro admitted receiving scores of fees and retainers for his work. His total gross fees surged above the $500,000 mark
for the last ten years.

Sapiro told two of being paid $1,000
for attending a three-day conference of the American Farm Bureau at Chicago in July, 1920. This fee included his expenses to and from San Francisco, he said, but it was paid on only three days' work at the conference.

STORE COLLAPSES

High Winds Believed Responsible for Crash of Village Structure

Marysville, April 5—High winds are thought to have caused the collapse of the R. H. Willis general store at Unionville Center, near here early today. The building, a two-story brick structure, crashed through the roof of the postoffice and a residence where Mrs. Mary Goldsberry and her son were asleep. Neither was injured.
The building is said to have been more than 50 years old, and was condemned recently by state inspectors.

HAZEN ENTERS MAYORALTY LIST FOR REELECTION

Mayor's Declaration Expected To Increase Early Political Activity in City

LANDES TO RUN AGAIN

George T. Geran Expected To Be Candidate for City
Solicitor

Prospects of early activity in the local political arena were considerably increased this morning when Mayor Earl M. Hazen announced that he will be a candidate for a second term.

Now that the mayor has opened the way, it is expected that other politically ambitious citizens will appear on the battlefield as avowed aspirants for various offices and that within the next few weeks the campaign will be in full swing.

The first candidate to step into the field was James A. Wilkins, Republican, councilman from the First ward,
who started circulation of his campaign cards early last week. He is seeking a second term.

No Definite Platform
Mayor Hazen in announcing his candidacy stated that he has formulated no definite platform but assures the voters that if re-elected he will continue the policy which he has sought to carry out during his first term of striving to give the city an efficient and economical administration.

Although there was some mention several weeks ago of W. C. Woolley, former county commissioner, as a possible opponent for Mayor Hazen for the Republican nomination, Mr. Woolley recently stated that he would not be a candidate. Republican organization leaders are of the opinion that the mayor will be unopposed in the primary,
which will take place Aug. 9.

Served as Clerk

The mayor began his first term on Jan. 1, 1924, and prior to that served two years as city clerk under former Mayor Buckley. Before becoming a city official, he was a supervisor in the erecting room of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., having been in that company's employ 19 years.

City Auditor J. L. Landes, republican, has announced that he will be a candidate for reelection and it is reported that George T. Geran, city solicitor, will also be in the race this fall. Mr. Geran is now filling out the unexpired term of former Solicitor Grant E. Mosser, Jr., who resigned to enter service of the state as special counsel in the Attorney General's office.

About all political talk at this time relates to Republican candidates. Several of the present Councilmen, Republicans,
are to be second term candidates. T. J.
Mead, the only Democrat in Council, is now on his second term and is not planning to run again.

TRIAL OF MRS. SNYDER,
GRAY SET BACK WEEK

New York, April 5—The beginning of the trial of Mrs. Ruth Brown Symder and Henry Jud Gray, for the alleged murder of Albert Snyder, the defendant's husband, was postponed from next Monday until April 18 by Supreme Court Justice Townsend-
Seudder today.

A disinclination to start the murder trial during Holy Week was given as his reason for the postponement by Justice Seudder.

NEW ADVENTURES OF PETER START IN THE STAR TODAY

School teachers, librarians and other authorities on children's stories say the success of Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent as a writer of Children's stories (her audience numbers many thousands) is due to the fact that she knows how keenly a child analyzes a fairy tale and is careful to make her stories technically true in detail, conceding to the child's love of romance by having Peter and his friends talk a common language on an equal footing of size.

Mrs. Vincent has written a new series of "Pete's" Adventures, which will appear daily
in The Star, beginning today.

Incidentally, so delicious is the humor, so vivid the characterizations that her stories entertain the grownups as well as the children.

ILLINOIS VOTES THESE FAIREST COEDS

Students at the University of Illinois have chosen the eight coeds above as the most beautiful in the school. HEWITT TRIAL JURY IS STILL BEING SELECTED

Three Tentatively Seated as Court Opens; Boy's Father Present

Jefferson, April 5—Three jurors
were tentatively seated in the jury box
when court opened this morning on the second day of the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16-year-old Convent boy, charged with the murder of Mrs. Fred Brown and her five-year-old son at Convent, Mo., Feb. 11.

The youth will first be tried on the charge of beating the little boy to death.

Monday was taken up entirely by examination of men and women on a panel of 75 drawn for the Hewitt trial.
Eighteen were excused before the trial
began, and by the time of adjournment Monday afternoon, 30 more had been excused for cause.

The appearance in court of Frank Hewitt, of Erie, Pa., father of the accused boy, caused a surprise Monday.
It was the first time the older Hewitt has appeared in the case. He occupied a chair beside the boy's mother, Mrs.
Oliver Hewitt of Convent, from whom he is divorced.

Of the three jurors so far selected,
two are women.

PINEDO DELAYED

"Flying Pinedo" Unsuccessful in Attempted Heist

Hot Springs, N. M., April 5—Commander Francesco De Pinedo, Italian round-the-world star, is detained here today on the start of the fourth leg of his flight across America by inability to get his giant monoplane to take the air.

Commander De Pinedo, the "flying tascini," took off from Mexico City near San Antonio, Texas, at 9:05 a. m.
yesterday for Hot Springs, and expected the same difficulty when he hopping off. He was forced to lighten ship before he could get a start.

SEEK "MYSTERY MAN"

Believe Victim of Murder Was Tracked
for Several Weeks

Chicago, April 5—Police today are searching for a "mystery man" who is believed to have killed Charles Brown, 44, who was shot here for several weeks prior to discovery of Brown's body on a lonely road near the Michigan State Fair grounds.
The motive for the killing has not yet been made known, but the victim was a well-known figure in the community.

SHANGHAI, TIEN-TSIN CONCENTRATION POINTS

Chinese Situation Has Assumed Alarming Aspect, Admiral
C. S. Williams Reports

Washington, April 5—The American government is prepared to evacuate all Americans from north China, as well as from the Yangtze Valley and Ju-rui points, it was stated in the White House today following the cabinet meeting.

It is not yet apparent whether this step will be necessary, but the government is anticipating it, and has plans to make a concentration point at Tientsin. This would provide two hundred of refuge for Americans, Tien-Tsin in the north and Shanghai to the south,
and their concentration would make it
a comparatively simple matter to protect American lives with the armed forces already sent to China.

Situation Alarming
The Chinese situation, as it affects safety of foreigners, assumed an alarming aspect today on the basis of additional reports from Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron.

Evacuation of Chung-Shan, in western Henan Province, is being hastened because of labor and anti-foreign agitation. Admiral Williams reported that the American Consulate there will close Thursday, 10 days earlier than previously planned.

The attack on Japanese sailors at Hankow, resulting in the killing of three of them, showed indications of having been a prelude to a larger move.

SUFFERS RELAPSE

King Ferdinand Again at Death's
Door in Come Today

Berlin, April 5—King Ferdinand has suffered a relapse and is again at death's door, according to reports reaching here from Bucharest today.
The king is in a critical condition, it is reported, and physicians are administering oxygen. His heart action is gradually failing. He has not taken food for 24 hours.

Queen Marie is remaining constantly
at the bedside of the king.
Mr. Hristianov is understood to have urged all parties against the return of Prince Carol.

SAYS STUDENT SUICIDE SPIRITUAL NEGLECT VICTIM

Continued April 5—Students who commit suicide are not criminals, according to a report by the United States Department of Education, which has been made public by the Bureau of Education. The report is based on a study of 100 cases of student suicide in the United States. The study was made by a committee of experts who found that the majority of student suicides were the result of spiritual neglect. The committee recommended that schools should take steps to prevent such tragedies by providing spiritual guidance for their students.

Chicago, Apr. 5—One hoodlum was believed wounded, a plate glass window was riddled with bullets and women voters and election workers were terrorized today when gangsters attacked
a polling place during a mayoralty election today.

Police stationed at the polling place retained the gangsters here. It was the first serious outbreak of violence after the voting began.
Five thousand policemen stood guard
at the city's 2,384 precinct polling places, while 600 detectives patrolled
the streets in riot gear, armed with revolvers, machine guns and bombs.

CANDIDATES VOTE, MAKE STATEMENTS

Chicago, April 5—After casting their ballot for Chicago's next mayor, the two principal candidates, Mayor William E. Dever, Democrat, and William Hale Thompson, Republican, repaired to their respective quarters to await final returns.

In last minute statements, the candidates said:
Mayor Dever: "I have won this fight. The people of Chicago are not going to revert to the scandalous days which preceded my administration. I will continue to be mayor of Chicago for four years." Former Mayor Thompson: "I tried to make a clean and decent fight, but Mayor Dever and his boss, George Brennan, would not permit it. I have tried my best to get the truth to the people. The people are the government. They know the facts, the future rests
in their hands."

troops into action in the event of trouble.
One alderman in hiding, two of his workers chased off the streets, and the wreckage of two bomb explosions strewn the sidewalks were highlights of the early balloting.

The exceptionally heavy early vote
was declared by both William E.
Dever, Democratic incumbent, and William Hale Thompson, Republican, to be a sign of their coming of a landslide victory. Dr. John Dill Robertson, Independent-Republican candidate, insisted that he would receive more votes than both of his opponents.

Three hours after the polls opened more than 60 per cent of the total registered vote of 1,146,408 had been cast.
A record.

The dangerous conflict between De-ver and Thompson parties caused police to take precautions in history to prevent intimidation of voters, rioting and possible murder.

This activity on the part of police has already resulted in the death of one gangster and the arrest of several others. Vincent "Schemmer" Drueel, who was the late gangland chief, Dean O'Hannigan, was shot and killed late yesterday by Police Officer Dan Healy
while Drueel and two of his bandits were being taken to headquarters in a hurry car.

It was said to have caused Healy and then attack him with his fist. He was followed by a police order to round up all known gangsters.
During the general roundup a man who gave his name as Robert Lewis and who is said to have admitted that he was a Detroit gangster, was arrested carrying a suit case which police said
was filled with hand-machine guns and sawed off shotguns. He had "confession" and was taken to the police house.

"Love's Embers" New Garrison Serial, Ready

Full story of the "married life" series of "Love's Embers" has been among the most popular features here
and has been presented.

Questionnaire and surveys have proved that the "Love's Embers" series is nearly the best loved by the aver-

Love's Embers, appears today on Page 7.

"Love's Embers," by Miss Garrison, a serial in "Revelations of a Wife" and reported to be just as intriguing as "Revelations" and "Quick" will begin in Wednesday's issue of The Star.
Don't miss it and don't forget

COAL TRAFFIC THROUGH HERE AT STANDSTILL

Strike Hits Hocking Valley Line Hardest; Payroll of Railroad Reduced

Coal traffic over the Hocking Valley line is almost at a standstill, it was reported in local offices today.

Only a few freight trains were operating over the Hocking Valley line today and most of them were carrying coal. The Hocking Valley line carries an average of about four million tons of coal each way each day. Under normal conditions it will operate at least 10 coal freights each way each day, it was said.

The coal strike is directly responsible for the slump in business, rail officials said. The Hocking Valley line is said to have made a great cut in the number of employees on April 1 due to the strike. No Marion men have yet been hired, however, and it is thought the city will not be seriously affected by the strike so far as employees are concerned.

Up To Normal

The Pennsylvania Railroad still was running its usual number of coal trains yesterday, it was reported. How long it will continue to do so, is not known.

Marion train crews, including the 10-ton, were given notice of lay-off from headquarters of the Erie Railroad, Ohio Central and Western, Sunday. Reports stated that the lay-off was indirectly the result of the coal strike.

Coal traffic over the Hocking Valley line has been extraordinarily heavy up until this time this year. Coal is carried directly from the mines of southern Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, through this city, to the great lakes, going by way of the Erie docks.

The branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad operating through Marion receives coal from practically the same source as has its docks at Sandusky. How long the reported slump will continue is not known.

On New Schedule

All trains through Marion are now operating on a time table carrying Eastern Standard Time. The final change was made early Sunday morning.

Bituminous Coal Miners Strike Now is "Holiday", Turning Into Grim Struggle

ing when the Erie Railroad issued new time schedules, changing from Central Standard to Eastern Standard. The change was made necessary by a ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission which changed the time in a number of cities.

Up to this time the Erie Railroad has been operating from Marion to Cincinnati on Central Standard Time. The new time table and change, however, will not affect the time at which Erie trains will arrive and leave the city since time tables published in newspapers in this vicinity have always carried the schedule in the time of the city, namely, Eastern Standard.

Weather Aids Work

Favorable weather yesterday greatly aided section men who are laying new 105-pound steel on the Big Four tracks between Marion and Bellefontaine. The new steel is replacing the former 90-pound rail.

Safety Meeting

The regular loss and damage and safety meeting of the Toledo Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, will be held April 13, in the recreational rooms, at Toledo, it was announced here today.

their backs—and strengthening their minds. Leastwise, that is what their organizers hope.

They are striking for a continuation of a $7.50 a day wage—which the operators say will ruin their competition with the non-union fields.

Some compromises already have been effected. A few of the smaller mine owners have reached agreements. The union officials seem ready to arbitrate the differences.

Below Surface Troubles

But the difficulties appear to be deeper than this strike.

"For the soft coal industry," explains a laborite high in the council of the workers, "is over-developed. We could take 175,000 men out of the bituminous field—and never miss them."

"While hard coal is limited to seven counties in Pennsylvania, the fields of soft coal are still limitless. There are mountains of it not yet scratched."

"Any man, with the desire, and a $1,000 can become an operator—and boss."

"Once Miner Always Miner"

The make-up of the miner is such that he remains in the field—even from generation to generation. And miners seldom have other callings.

Accidents which kill more than 2,500 of them yearly, jolt them a bit. But then they go straight back to their jobs fearlessly.

Work is not steady. It is only the lucky miner who the union officials, who can work 140 days a year. Yet they stick.

Strong backs—and weak minds?

Maybe. But more likely a sports something in the blood that finds thrill in danger, and pleasure—even under the hardest conditions.

Ritchie High as Democratic Choice in 1928 Campaign

Correspondent Would Eliminate Smith, McAdoo and Reed from Prospect List

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—Speaking of Democratic presidential possibilities.

There's no real use in speaking of the Republican ones, because, in our hearts, we all know that C. Coolidge is it.

Let not speaking of Democrats, nobody's mentioned Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland recently. Let not Ritchie be forgotten, because, any minute, he's liable to loom up prominently.

Of course Al Smith, not Al Ritchie, is the leading candidate.

But what good does it do to be the leading candidate if you can't be nominated?

Maybe Al Smith will, but good reasons are beginning to be apparent why he won't.

For one thing, he's too wet. Now he's too dry, too.

I told you so. I predicted Al Smith was coming out as a dry-wet, or a wet-dry.

You noticed what Senator Borah said the other day.

If a politician can keep the public from finding out whether he's wet or dry, that's all right. But I don't believe he can be both wet and dry and get away with it.

The mixture suggests too strongly that his real name is mud.

JUST assume, for the sake of argument, that Smith and Borah, between them, have quipped Smith.

William C. McAdoo's out of it. That's admitted. Mac may be able to tell other folks where to get off, but nobody claims he can land anything for himself any more.

Most dogeaters probably would note down Senator Jim Reed of Missouri as next in line.

The trouble with Reed is that he's been on the warpath too consistently all his life. He has a few, cracking good friends, but he has swarms of enemies simply thirsting for his gore.

He's a big, strong man all right, and not to be slightly dismissed as a possibility for anything he wants, as he unquestionably wants the presidency.

But he isn't safe to bank on, with so many snipers on his trail.

NOW, eliminate those three—Smith, McAdoo and Reed—and you'll find Ritchie's about as good a guess as there is left.

In fact, with that trio out of the way, he's the outstanding Democratic candidate.

There isn't the same thing as saying he has a following, as Coolidge has, or that he's even as strong as Frank O. Lowden, for example, if Coolidge should miraculously decide to retire.

But it's the same thing as saying that Ritchie's the next man you think of, after crossing Smith, McAdoo and Reed off the Democratic list.

THERE'S this about Ritchie—

He's an individual of extraordinary personal charm. He's a big man and probably the handsomest person in the United States today, an avowed and all-around and yet he has punch and he puts on no airs.

He's one presidential candidate who has the nerve to say what he means. Some time ago he took the fancy to make a number of speeches around the country, to introduce himself. All the politicians encouraged him, thinking, with his outspokeness, he'd put his foot in it in short order. So he went, and to the politicians' disgust, made a great hit everywhere he appeared.

Oh, yes, he's a wet and all that, but he never proposed to modify and strengthen the Volstead Act at the same time.

G. F. SMITH ADDRESSES MARION ROTARY CLUB

Discusses Management of Retail Clothing Business at Noon Luncheon

Building and managing a retail clothing business was discussed before the Marion Rotary Club Monday noon by Charles F. Smith, member of the Club, and well known Marion clothier.

Smith took up point by point the methods he has found to be successful in his own business and which he has found used by other successful clothiers and haberdashers. The point he touched on were turnover, budget, concentrated buying, advertising and store service.

On the successful application of these cardinal points of selling clothing and men's wear Smith said was due the progress of any reputable store.

He also gave Rotarians at the close of his talk, an advance on what the summer styles are to hold for men, as well as what the fall styles will bring forth when they are shown.

Most of the business of the club Monday was taken up with discussion and plans for the two conventions which are approaching. On April 20 the district convention, to which between 10 and 15 members are going, will open in Toledo. In June the international convention will be held at Ostend, Belgium. Two members of the Marion club are expected to attend this convention.

CITY MAY SELL LAND WITHOUT VOTE, REPORT

Solicitor Geran Says Approval of Proposed Sale Not Necessary Under Law

Land on Patterson-st which the city owns and has used as a public dumping place for refuse during the last 15 years can be sold without submitting the proposal to a vote of the people, City Solicitor Geran has ascertained from examination of the statutes. He will file a report to that effect with council at the next meeting and plans for selling the property are expected to be authorized at that time.

When the property was purchased by the city, it was a huge "hole in the ground," resulting from stone quarry operations. The excavation was gradually filled up by refuse dumped into it during the 15 years, finally raising it to the same level as the surrounding territory.

Several weeks ago Service Director O. A. Benedict informed council that the place could no longer be used as a dump ground and recommended that it be sold. At that time it was thought a vote of the people would be necessary to authorize the sale and the city solicitor was instructed to investigate.

Welcome News

The solicitor's announcement that this procedure will not be necessary comes as welcome news to council, as it had been figured that the cost of a general vote on the sale would come very near equalling the price to be paid for the property.

The procedure, as outlined by the solicitor, will be adoption of an ordinance by council authorizing the service director to proceed with the sale by advertising for sealed bids. The advertisement must be published five consecutive weeks and the property then sold to the highest bidder.

At one time it was proposed to have the city retain possession of the ground and use it as a public park or playground. This plan has been absolutely abandoned, officials say, council being in favor of selling the property. It covers approximately an acre and could be placed into several lots of substantial proportions, city officials say.

MARION STEEL BODY CO. PLANS NEW ADDITION

Plant on Monroe-st To Be Enlarged To Meet Growing Business

Continued growth of business of the Marion Steel Body Co., a manufacturing company which began operations here in 1923, was indicated today when plans for construction of an addition to the plant on Monroe-st were announced. This will be the fourth addition to the original plant since the business was started, an enlargement to the factory building having been constructed each year since 1923. This year's addition will measure 60 by 100 feet and will be of the construction to conform with the remainder of the factory structure. Work will be started at once. The expectation of completing the addition within 60 days.

Enlargement of the plant has been necessitated by the demand for increased production. E. H. Fishman, president and general manager of the company, stated today. The concern now has a force of 20 employees with prospects of more being added to the payroll this year.

Takes Over Company

The Marion Steel Body Co. was organized to take over the plant and business of the Marion Grave Vault Co., which went into bankruptcy. It manufactures steel dumping equipment used by road contractors and in general construction work, steel truck bodies and metallic burial vaults.

MARION COURT MEASURE PASSES IN LOWER HOUSE

Bill Providing Amendments to Municipal Tribunal Operation Goes to Senate

The bill introduced in the state legislature providing for several amendments and additions to the rules governing Marion's Municipal Court has passed the house and will be voted upon in the senate within the next few days, according to a report received from Columbus today.

Adoption in the senate is regarded as certain, due to the fact that the bill has been endorsed by the Marion County Bar Association as well as Judge Martin of the Municipal Court. The amendments provide for appeals to the common pleas court in civil cases which under the present rules can be taken to the higher court only on error. The bill also stipulates that fines collected by the Municipal Court in city criminal cases shall go to the general fund instead of the safety fund. Several other changes relating to the size of juries in civil suits and other technical points will also become effective should the bill be passed.

GEORGE A. DAILY PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE

Denies He Issued Worthless Checks; Hearing Set for Wednesday Morning

George A. Daily, 48, pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court yesterday to the charge of issuing a worthless check and his hearing was set for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Daily was arrested on an affidavit filed by F. C. Lutz, N. Main-st produce dealer, who said that he cashed a $10 check signed by Daily and that it was returned by the bank marked "insufficient funds."

J. S. White, 26, and Thomas Miller, 30, arrested in connection with the case, have been released. Both were exonerated, police say.

Frank Wingo, 50, negro residing at Alger, pleaded not guilty when brought into court yesterday on a malicious destruction of property charge. He is alleged to have cut down 20 trees on a farm owned by D. L. Metz, west of Mosher, after Metz refused to sell him the trees. Wingo's hearing was set for 4 o'clock this afternoon and he was released on bond of $250.

Daily's bond was placed at $500, which he was unable to furnish. He is held at the city prison awaiting arraignment.

THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE REPORTED TO POLICE

Robert Mentzer, 502 Park-st, reported to police this morning that his automobile, a 1925 model Chevrolet coupe, was stolen yesterday afternoon from its parking place on W. Center-st near the Marion Steam Shovel Co. office. The car carried license number 659-148.

E. A. Feeley, 230 W. Center-st, reported that an automobile robe and five automobile curtains were stolen last night from the rear of his home, 329 W. Center-st.

EXAMINE PROSPECTIVE CALEDONIA STUDENTS

Work Conducted by Health Commissioner and Dr. Edward Larkin

Examination of 27 children who will enter Caledonia school next fall was held at Caledonia today by Dr. N. S. Smith, county health commissioner, and Dr. Edward Larkin, of the state health department. The examination is the first of the preschool clinics which will be held this spring in the county schools. Through these examinations the health authorities get information on the physical condition of children before they enter school. Recommendations are made to the parents where any correction is necessary.

ERIE TRANSFER EMPLOYEE SUFFERS LEG FRACTURE

Trinidad Lau, 20, laborer, sustained a fractured left leg Sunday morning as the Erie Transfer, where he is employed. Q. Why does Sprayed Rubber give so much more to the car owner?

A. Sprayed Rubber gives more to the car owner because it gives him longer wearing tires.

It is stronger, more uniform, purer.

It is made from a specially fine rubber latex. It is produced by a new and exact mechanical method—and without the use of either smoke or acid.

The United States Rubber Company invented this method specifically to make better tires. Just as they established the United States Rubber Plantations in 1909 to improve the quality of their rubber supply.

By creating finer rubber, new methods of producing the rubber and of building it into tires, this Company is creating better tires all along the line.

There is just one right way to keep the skin clear and smooth

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight. I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S. S. S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tested and reliable. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

"Suddenly, somewhere, some time," says the president of a woman's hosiery company, "a woman conceived the idea of black shoes and champagne colored stockings. The idea spread. Where 450 styles of stockings were carried in 1920, the company now has to carry 6,000."

And the consumers have to pay for the immense variety carried. Women should exercise the utmost care about conceiving ideas!

When Charity Is Not Charity.

Through the New York Times we learn that a fraud order has been issued against the Crippled Children's Relief Association, Inc., and that sums aggregating over $70,000 have been returned to charity-inclined persons who had recently made contributions to it in the thought that they were adding in a worthy work.

Most get-rich-quick schemes appeal to the rapidity of the public. This particular one appealed to its spirit of benevolence. It's scheme was to send out three initial handkerchiefs, priced at one dollar, with a letter from which the recipient got the idea that the money thus raised was to be used to secure proper appliances for the crippled unfortunate and they be put in the way of earning their livings. It is said that many sent back five and ten dollars and returned the handkerchiefs, some contributing as high as $100.

When inquiry after inquiry was received by the New York Welfare department and the Charity Organization society, of that city, an investigation was started. The Crippled Children's Relief Association, Inc., was found to have a desk and a chair or two in a loft building on Lexington avenue, and it was made up, apparently, of two individuals who made no pretense of having an institution for the care of crippled little ones. All the charity discoverable was being reaped, so far as the investigators could discover, by the two individuals who were making an easy living through their enterprise.

The Crippled Children's Relief Association, Inc., will receive no more funds through the mails. It has been put out of business. But there is no telling how soon another organization under a different name will be soliciting charity in the same way. Nor is there any guaranty that the plan, with this or that variation, will not be worked by dozens of so-called organizations with alleged worthy motives.

Works of charity are to be applauded. The charity-inclined who give of their means to assist in charitable enterprises are to be commended. But before making their gifts they should assure themselves that they are going to a worthy charity. There is so much pain, and suffering, and want, in this world of ours that money should not be wasted on those who play upon the public's sympathies to live well without labor worthy the name on means intended for the unfortunate.

For Lighting the Public Highways.

The senate committee on roads and highways has acted favorably on the highway lighting bill introduced by Senator Frank C. Wine, of Stark county. The proposed measure, which has been referred to as "the first step toward making Ohio's highways safe for motorists at all hours," is an enabling act which permits county commissioners and the state director of highways "to install highway lighting on dangerous highways, curves, grade crossings, bridges or wherever needed." It is said to be backed by the Ohio Good Roads Federation and has been pronounced by Executive Secretary W. A. Aldorf "one of the best pieces of legislation introduced in the interests of highway safety in the past decade."

"Ohio has a number of particularly dangerous strips of highway that are a menace to the night driver, unfamiliar with the roads," said Secretary Aldorf. "The passage of this bill will give the director of highways and the county commissioners in the various counties the authority to eliminate these by proper lighting."

"It is argued that, with these dangerous spots protected, trucks and heavy traffic would use the roads at night, leaving the day-time travel less congested for the drivers of autos. Twenty-four-hour use of roads will be possible under these conditions, which would relieve considerable of the congestion which now makes traveling dangerous."

By the terms of the bill installation by the director of highways is limited to 100 lights for each 200,000 population of the state as given by the 1920 United States census and such installation shall be limited to such state highways as have a daily average of not less than 500 vehicles passing over them, while on county roads the county commissioners shall be limited to the installation of 100 lights to each 100,000 of the population of the county.

It seems to us that the proposed measure is more friendly to great population centers than it is to the smaller ones, provided, of course, that the all night lighting of highways is desirable. In Cuyahoga county, by way of illustration, the state highway director, who would have the right to install practically 6,000 lights in the state, could on the basis of the population of that county, fairly install 400 lights and the county commissioners 800 lights, while down here in Marion county the state highway director couldn't fairly install more than twenty-five lights and the county commissioners about twice as many.

But, assuming for the sake of argument, that there is merit in the idea, is its introduction timely. With the state faced by a deficit variously estimated at from $8,000,000 to $13,000,000 and the general assembly hard pressed for ways and means of raising revenue, is this the time to consider such a highway expenditure in addition to the great program of road building and maintenance already mapped out?

Our impression is that the people of Ohio as a whole and the people of its various political subdivisions are already bearing about all the expense for highway betterment they can reasonably be expected to stand.

Let us not misjudge the Detroit participants. The meeting up there in protest of the rescuing of American citizens from the mob at Nanking was in charge of the communists of the City of the Straits, who evidently beat them to it.

"Spring vacation in the public schools," says the South Bend Tribune "will be welcomed by parents of small children who are tired preparing debates." Let's get this thing right. Who are tired, the parents or the children?

The missionaries who absolutely refuse to get out of China are probably oblivious to the fact that few have been brought about by people of wisdom; that the most of the world's great conflict have resulted from built-headedness.

We never fully appreciated how happy we were in this country till the San Francisco Chronicle pointed out that "the happiest country is the one where the people never get mad enough to vote."

"I sincerely hope that Conneaut boy who murdered a young mother and her son will not get his full desert," remarked the fellow who lives next door on the way down town this morning. "There is something repulsive to me about boiling people alive in oil."

While a Berkeley, California, man was mowing his lawn, his lawnmower hit and exploded a thirty-eight caliber cartridge carelessly dropped in the grass, the ball inflicting a bad flesh wound in his face, which will probably justify a lot of men in taking credit to themselves for letting their wives do the work about their homes.

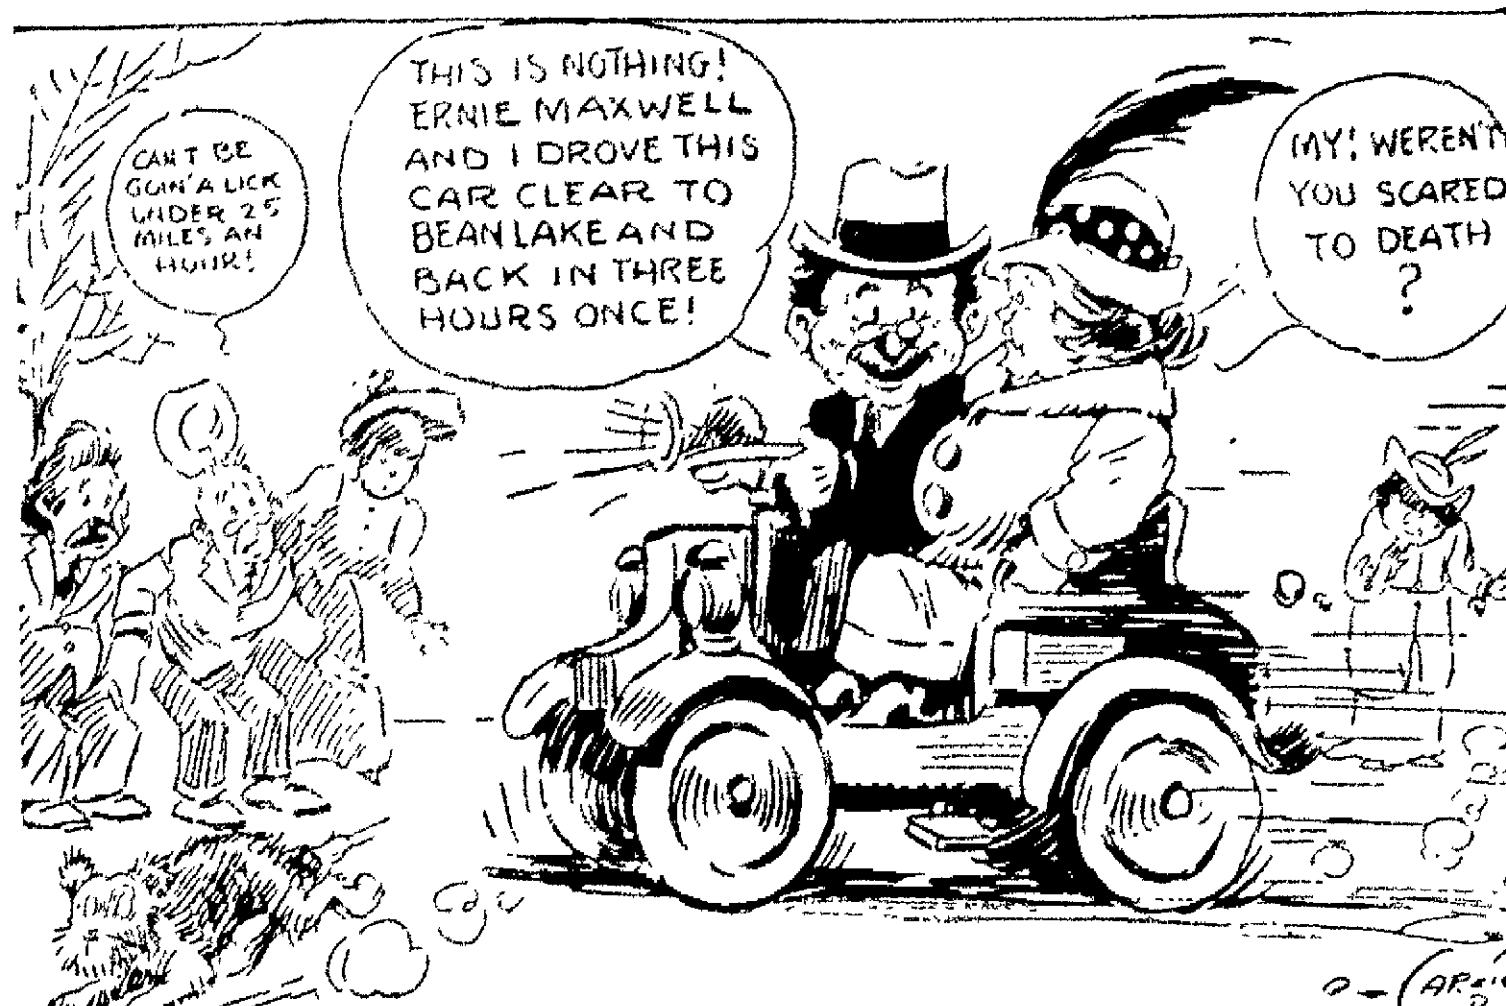

Poems That Live.

MINIVER CHEEVEY

Miniver Cheevey, child of scorn,
Grew lean while he assailed the seasons.
He wept that he was ever born,
And he had reasons.
Miniver loved the days of old When swords were bright and steel was prancing,
The vision of a warrior bold
Would set him dancing.
Miniver sighed for what was not,
And dreamed, and rested from his labors;
He dreamed of Thebes and Camelot,
And Pagan's moorings.
Miniver mourned the ripe renown
That made so many a name so fragrant;
He mourned Romance, now on the tower
And Art, a vagrant.
Miniver loved the Medusa,
Albeit he had never seen one
He would have smitten necessarily Could he have been one.

Miniver cursed the commonplace
And eyed a khat with awe and longing
He missed the medieval grace
Of iron clothing.
Miniver scorned the gold he sought,
But sorely missed it when he sought it,
Miniver thought, and thought, and thought,
And thought about it.
Miniver Cheevey, born too late,
Scratched his head and kept on thinking;
Miniver coughed, and called it fate,
And kept on drinking.

GETTING MORE SOPHISTICATED.

Women Beauty-Seekers.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A few days ago I had a letter from the president of an association of hair dressers and beauty experts. He asked me this question:

"Do you honestly believe that cosmetics, make-up of face and hair, are detrimental to the moral and physical development of American womanhood?"

I do not believe that make-up has any such effect.

On the contrary, it is my honest judgment that every individual should look the best possible.

There is nothing that adds so much to the self-respect, self-reliance and mental content of any man or woman, as the knowledge that the dress, cut of the hair and appearance of the shoes and stockings, are neat and in accord with the current style.

Why should any woman neglect to maintain the nails, to powder the nose, and, if need be, to rouge the cheeks and lips if they are lacking in color?

The only objection I have to the use of rouge is that it camouflages health. It gives the appearance of health many times when there is no health.

The best rouge in the world is the rouge which comes from exercise, fresh air, simple food, and a healthy skin. There should be no incentive to have the flush of the cheek and rosy lips, and perhaps it is lost if the rouge put is depended upon exclusively. But if there is no neglect of those hygienic things which make for good health and if in spite of their employment there is a paleness of face or lip, I can well understand that the rouge is a necessity in a sense. I don't blame any woman for using it under these circumstances.

I regard it as an obligation on the part of every person to look the best possible, to dress neatly and stylishly, even if not expected, and so far as necessary to maintain or bolster personal beauty, to resort to the use of the harmless methods recommended by "beauty experts."

Think it over and see if I am not right. The well-dressed, well-kept, well-dressed, and if need be, well-rouged individual will make her way ten times as quickly as the one who neglects all these beautifying measures.

Permit me to enlarge a bit upon what I have said about the relation of these things to health. Nobody can have good health without happiness. The mental condition has a tremendous amount to do with the welfare of the body.

If you want to consider yourself the worst-looking and most run-down specimen in the community, of necessity you would be unhappy. You are bound to be unhappy if you have any suspicion that your attire or appearance is unconventional. You are bound to be happy when you look your best.

Your good clothes and cared for skin will give you a feeling of social security, and as a natural result your mind will be at peace. This is a mental state which will add materially to your vigor, brightness and good health.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

R. P. Q.—What is the cause of palpitation of the heart? Is it dangerous and what will help it?

A.—May be due to indigestion or nervousness—have the heart examined to make sure it is normal. Be sure to avoid indigestion and build up the health in general. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

G. O. Q.—What causes enlargement of the veins in the legs? The condition seems to come and go.

A.—Very likely due to varicose veins from some undue exertion—such as long standing, for instance. Try wearing a bandage or elastic stocking during the daytime and see whether or not you notice improvement.—Copyright, 1927.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

A dentist out on a country road got to thinking over his sins. He'd been lying to his suffering patients about how it would hurt, and he'd do you know, this here dentist guy actually got so he cried a few times over the arm he'd done to people's faith in humanity. Well, he forgot where he was, and was just thinking about his office and his work and all, and when he came to himself why he was there in the road with his car stalled all around a tree.

"Must have run into something," he says to himself. "Maybe an old filling or some such stuff. Piece of a drill left by a bum dentist, I reckon."

And he got out and got his pliers out of his toolbox, and when the rescue squad got there, he was standing on the running board, holding the lid of the hood back, and trying to pull out the spark plugs. And they heard him mumble:

"Now, this may hurt a little; just a tiny bit!"—Copyright, 1927.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q.—How long did Palestine remain a Roman province? R. D. C.

A.—It remained an integral part of the Roman empire until 614 A. D.

Q.—Has the bus and passenger car traffic hurt the railroads? R. H.

A.—The reports of the railroads of the United States for the current fiscal year show an unusual degree of prosperity, apparently not affected by the increased number of bus lines, passenger automobiles, etc. The prosperity of the nation at large and the increasing desire of people to travel to see all parts of the country have more than offset the addition of transportation facilities.

Q.—What is being done in this country for the care of dependent children? R. M. F.

A.—The children's bureau says that in the United States there are approximately 218,000 dependent children under the care of private and public agencies and institutions; 200,000 crippled, deaf, or blind children are in hospitals and special schools, 135,000 mentally defective children are in special schools and other private and public institutions, and 130,000 children are given public aid in their own homes.

Q.—Is it true that "maru" means "ship" in Japanese, or is it a description of a certain kind of ship? S. T.

A.—The Japanese embassy says that maru means, first a sphere or circle; and secondly, perfection, entirety, completeness. Expressive of perfection, it was formerly used as a suffix to the names of persons, sword masterships, etc., as to ships; but at present the last usage has become the common one. Thus the word maru, when used in conjunction with a proper name, may be said to designate a ship, it being the most popular suffix used in that connection.

Q.—What was the heaven spoken of in the Bible? J. A. S.

A.—The heaven spoken of in the Bible used by the Jews is a simple form of yeast probably made from the wild yeast common in hot countries. It is in no way different in its action from the commercial yeast of today.

Q.—Did Christ Mathewson ever play with any other major league club than the New York Giants? H. R.

A.—He played with that team throughout his major league career. He started playing with that club July, 1900.

Q.—What causes the center of block of ice to be milky and have a peculiar taste? T. W. D.

A.—The Bureau of Standards says that concentration of impurities in the water frequently cause the center of block of ice to be milky and have a peculiar taste. Usually the core water is removed and replaced with fresh water, when the block has been nearly solidified.

Q.—Is Eaton's department store, of Toronto, the largest in the world? L. E.

A.—It is said to rank second, with Marshall Field's, of Chicago, ahead of it in size.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

For men, however great they have been ranked in history, have not been in those most intimate of affairs with their own kind. The late Theodore Roosevelt was an exception. The new book written by Mr. Roosevelt's son, is illuminating. He knew T. R. well and he found him to be a great man.

Roosevelt was really great; but once he said to Sam Gompers:

"Labor means more to me than Wall Street if it violates the law."

This country that leadership like that always—the leadership of men in local, state, and national politics—who do not play favorites.

Did you ever take your pay check or your salary income and figure out how much you make a minute? President Coolidge pays fifty cents a minute. Judge Landis, boss of the major leagues, makes forty cents a minute. The president and Judge Landis don't do so well. Will Hays, head of the motion picture producers of the United States, earns a dollar a minute. That's better, but even Hays is not in the class.

There are the real money makers. Doug has been getting $6.67 per minute and Gloria Swanson $7.49 per minute. Just how much Henry Ford makes nobody can quite tell. He says money means nothing to him. It is safe to say he has never figured it up.

How to get the boys onto the farms and the girls off is the problem. Investigators find there are more than enough girls on farms and not enough boys. There are girls and women doing labor in the fields who ought to be given the opportunity to do something better. And there are boys and men in the cities with nothing to do at the very time the farm needs them. Too bad civilization doesn't carry some method of better distribution for human beings.

We read in a translation of Ovid, Latin poet, that "the prickly thorn often bears soft roses." And so it seems to be the way of the world that we are bound to pay a price for all the sweetest and best things. The easiest way sometimes seems to lead most quickly to the goal—or what we fancy to be the goal. But the quick reward, easily, thoughtlessly won, must usually prove to be not what we thought it was. It was not the thing we wanted, not the thing we thought we were going to get. But the reward that costs a great price, the price of waiting, the price of thorns—as thorns surround roses—is the reward that has substance, that lasts, and that is real.

In the life of the common man, which is a strange mixture of the prickly thorn and the flowers, there is one quality which fits him above all others for the struggle. It fits for the rough places in the road and brings him, in the right spirit, to the inn where he may one day dwell in peace. That quality is patience and faith. For the two make one—and they are invincible.

He was elected governor of New Jersey for the term 1917 to 1920, but resigned in 1919 to take a seat in the United States senate. Senator Edge served in the Spanish-American war as a second lieutenant of infantry. He said recently:

"I will frankly admit that while I unhesitatingly approve of the policy of placing machines wherever American lives or property rights may be in danger, we might just as well accept the fact that this is in effect intervention, not intervention from the standpoint of ultimately administering the government, but in addition to the protection of lives and property, it is intervention just the same."

"Personally, I approve of this type of intervention and believe it justified. Believe, however, the time has arrived when we should call it by its right name."

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, April 5.—Chinatown may be faint more hells than Swedenborg dreamed, but lately the outward aspect is peace and quiet. Slummers continue to go, see—a jaw. A few human dregs come to the surface from hidden catacombs, but that is all.

Slipped myriads of opium dens no longer fit ghostlike through the narrow tang of streets running off the hip of Chatham square. Nor do boozy, gold toothed blonde burkas their souls in a hell's market place.

I am told only three white wires of Chinese remain to peer through latticed windows in the forbidden world. The sawed-off shrunken have not blazed in a long war for more than a year. The dusty joss houses are open for tourists.

Most of the Chinese, who once frequented the quarter, are now living in Jersey town. New arrivals, inspired by hope of native companionship, remain only a short while. It is entirely too dull and they tire of the gaze of the sight-seers.

The all night missions of Chinatown draw the greatest crowds. Here a spiritual rap is followed with free sandwiches and hot coffee in the old Bowers Street mission, where the oil painting of Sophie the Scrubwoman, loved of the Bowery, a big line nightly forms.

It is not the blowy crew of stragglers one might expect. The faces are mostly those of youth who have lost an uneven battle with life, and seeking a new start, gravitate to the simple friendliness and helping hand the mission provides.

The perennial bums from Bowery gutters are, there, of course, but their number is comparatively small. The religion is of the old-fashioned sort with a nightly trail to the mourner's bench and a dusty rendition of "Washed in the Blood of the Lamb."

A midnight mission down and outer told of the life northward that caused his downfall. He said he had accepted the Broadway conception of existence—"a lotta laughs and a few headaches." But he said gravely the headaches outnumbered the laughs.

It is often said the Bowery is the last stop in New York before oblivion. Yet countless men and women, too, have drifted to the lodging house despair of the section only to get a grip on themselves and become useful citizens. Every night at the innumerable Bowery missions are respectable men and women who often come in limousines to give personal testimonies of regeneration. Some were untrussed by drink, others by drugs and a few were hapless victims of circumstances.

What Has One Before
the home of PROF.
and ELWELL in Camden-Ind., one night in October comes MARTHA DAL-N., a nurse, bearing a woman fainted on the train on Martha had been traveling.
The girl is an artist. He has a girl, aged 3. Late that night
the girls are born to the woman.
The Elwells adopt the girls.
The story then moves forward years. The twins, now growing to beautiful womanhood,
have been named MARGARET and ELIZABETH and nicknamed MARTY and BETTY.
America enters the World War
and Jim Elwell enlists. Two nights before he enlists he discovers that one of the twins loves him and he tells her. He tells his mother this and she does not tell her which one because he wants her to treat them
all alike.

Over in France he is wounded in his first big battle and sent to the hospital. He is discharged again and sent to the front and put in charge of a detail to clean out an enemy pill box.

CHAPTER XVI

HAD Jim Elwell been equipped with a larger experience with German troops he would have been very dissatisfied about peering over the shelter of the little ravine where they lay and would have been very careful about exposing his anatomy.

He saw something that didn't look so good. But he didn't see it quickly enough. It was a stream of fire and smoke. But machine gun bullets travel just about as fast as light does for a distance of half a mile, so Jim felt that he saw as soon as he saw it.

He felt in the left shoulder, the same spot he had felt it the other time.
He felt, too, that the thing was getting to be a dogged habit with him. So he sat down—quickly.

"Seems me damn well right!" was an emphatic remark to the others as they rushed over to him. "I ought to have better sense than to do a thing like that and get pokin' my head right at them. Here, John," he said to Powell, "help me off. I can't get something down to the creek and get some water. And or heaven's sake don't any more fellows try what I did. I'm plain in luck; I didn't get it in my arm too bad."

John Powell was looking at him quizzically. Jim noticed that his face had suddenly gone greenish white.

"What's the matter, John?" he asked quickly.

"Oh nothing. Goodbye, Jim."

Jim ignored his last remark. "Just keep under cover, that's all. I'm leaving his coat behind him. He wanted under cover of the sloping bank down to the little creek. He made his way without difficulty, for the ground this time was a mere scratch, and passed on the bank to reach the farrow made by the bullet with water.
Then he succeeded after a fashion in binding it up.

His rough first aid surgery over, he rubbed his cautions, took a long drink—
for his throat was parched and stinging
—and he climbed back up the slope to the little bank.

What he didn't start—just then. A ragging roar that shook the hillside
and shook him off his feet and backward into the shallow creek. A blinding light flared before his eyes and the creek bed seemed to tremble beneath him.

What seemed an age later, when his dazed brain finally began to function
again, he crawled out and looked up the hillside.

What he saw gave him another shock, but one that pulled him to his feet and then left him stunned with its awfulness. Where the machine gun nest had been was now a hole in which a boy could have been hidden from sight.

"My God!" he gasped. "I guess John's hunch was right!"

He started up the hillside and then stopped short, his eyes riveted on something almost at his feet.

What he saw was the mangled body of John Powell. The face, half blown away, hung by a few bloody ropes.
The legs were gone entirely, torn off
at the hips.

Jim grew sick at heart. And as he stood looking down at the fearful sight,
the chill of cold horror clutching at his heart, there came to his mind the promise he had made that morning to his new buddy who had looked so much like him.

The letters John Powell had asked him to mail. And they were sewed inside the poor fellow's coat.

"I've got to do it," he muttered thickly, "and I suppose I might as well."

Home Treatment

For Gall Stones

Highly Praise

Reports from Many Grateful Users Say

It Saved Them an Operation. Pleasant and Inexpensive to Use.

For over a year now, many drug stores throughout the middle west have been recommending an inexpensive tablet called "Klax-Ko" for the successful

home treatment of gall stones, gall bladder trouble and hepatic torpidity.

According to written reports the simple home use of "Klax-Ko" tablets has produced wonderfully beneficial results

in hundreds of cases. Men and women of all ages, but particularly those in middle life seem to be especially benefited. One man says—"I suffered greatly from gall stone and liver trouble.

Doctor said I must have an operation.

The night before I was scheduled for the hospital a friend insisted I try

"Klax-Ko" tablets first. I commenced to feel better and in a few days was out of the house and back to work and I haven't ever had an attack since. I am grateful for Klax-Ko."

If you are bothered by dizzy spells, nauseas, shortness of breath, gas in stomach and bowels, pressure or sharp

pains in right side that often shoot

through to the back, coated tongue,

irregular and restless nights, you should give "Klax-Ko" tablets a trial.

Once, and you are invited to do so without slightest risk of cost unless you are pleased with results. Ask Bradley

Drug Store or any good druggist for Klax-Ko today.—Adv.

well take off his coat and wear it myself. No use looking for mine. It's probably blown to shreds."

The wonder was not so much that he could think of that promise at this time but that he could think at all. His brain was still numb from that awful roar; his senses reeled; he was sick, dreadfully sick.

It was no easy matter, handicapped
as he was with his wounded shoulder,
to get his dead comrade's coat off and on himself. But he kept at it, mechanically, and managed finally to accomplish it.

Leaving it unbuttoned, he turned his head toward the invisible lines where had come that deadly messenger and cursed. Cursed not only the men who had sent it but cursed the war itself,
the awfulness of it, the futility and senselessness of it.

And then the devil of circumstance,
invisible but standing close by, laughed
a scornful laugh. Jim neither saw the devil nor heard him laugh; and yet this evil spirit of chance and coincidence, with his diabolical sense of humor, had just slipped another one of his jokers
into the pocket of the man from Indiana.

That's why he laughed.
The boom of guns now grew louder and the bursts more frequent. From where he stood Jim could see great clouds of earth flung into the air as a shell plowed its way into the ground.
The world around him seemed bursting with the terrible sound. The air grew oppressive and Jim, for the first time realizing what a narrow slave he had made himself, grew faint as his imagination pictured himself lying there on the ground instead of poor John Powell.

Powell with his "hunch" that something was going to happen. Well, it had, and Jim was going to keep his promise. If it was the last thing on earth he did, he'd get those letters off
him. And so Jim Elwell, covering his eyes to hide the awful sight of that grow-some thing at his feet, turned and slowly began to climb the hill to the crater's edge.

When he reached it he hunted around for ten minutes for some sign of his companions. But not a trace could he find of one of the four. The big shell had done its work completely. Where his men had been was a gaping hole, and that was all. They probably lay buried beneath tons of dirt.

And so he turned and started back down the hill, stumbling along, crying:

Jim Elwell never even heard the crashing roar of the second shell that was hurled at their position. It tore another big hole out of the hillside at a spot not more than fifty or sixty feet away. Why he wasn't blown to atoms was just a miracle of Providence.

But there are some things that are as bad as death and worse. Right then and there a strip in the fabric of Jim Elwell's brain split, the threads snapped and the ends curled up.

Whether they ever would be found and tied together again was something that time and time alone might tell.
But time reveals no secrets until that hour strikes that is set by the hand of a sure-working deity.

A back home in the little town of Camden, Indiana, they thought Jim Elwell safe in the hospital at Vaux.
But that happiness that had come to them on the day of the armistice was to turn to bitterest grief.

Sedan, last battle of the war, and Jim Elwell smashed—gone to join the ranks of the living dead men.

On the day that America was giving itself over to the frenzy of joy with which it greeted the news of the armistice and the end of the war, a pretty Red Cross nurse from New York stood at the bedside of bed Number 38
in an American army hospital in the city of Metz. It was the afternoon of November 11. She was looking down at a new patient, a man who had been brought in that morning.

And although that which she beheld had become sadly familiar to her during the months since she had come overseas to do her bit, yet this man's pitiable condition brought the tears welling into her eyes.

While she stood there, leaning over the figure that lay there on the bed with closed eyes, the hospital's chief surgeon, a man who had left a wealthy practice in New York to lend a helping hand, came in the room and approached the bed. In his hand he carried a small package.

He smiled at the nurse. "Here are some letters and pictures belonging to this patient," Miss Downing," he said,
extending the package. "Better put them
under his pillow."

Miss Downing took them. "Tell me, Doctor," she asked, with a little catch in her voice, "who is he and where is he from? Has he any chance?"

The doctor shook his head slowly.
"Not much of a chance, I'm afraid,"
was his reply. "It's an unusually bad case of shell shock. This man is one of two of a machine gun unit of six,
according to the ambulance men who brought him here, who wasn't torn off to the four winds when two German shells hit their nest at Sedan."

"And do they mean by he is?"

"Yes," said the nurse, according to these letters and pictures sewed up in his coat, is John W. Powell, of Newark, N. J. He was found some fifty feet from one of the shell holes."

The other man, the doctor continued, was a James T. Elwell, from some place in Indiana. "Or so it was assumed from letters found in a coat lying nearby. As there was no coat on the body, the one found, of course, belonged to him. Both his legs and half his head were torn off. Not a vestige of the other four men known to have been in the squad was found."

"The nurse's lips moved in pity.
"What a shame!"

The doctor said, "Too bad," and looked at the man on the bed. The patient had opened his eyes, but in them was no recognition whatever, no sign of intelligence or of life. "They just stared."

"Too bad," the doctor repeated, and turned away, leaving the nurse still standing at the bedside. She laid her cool hand on the patient's hot forehead and watched with womanly pity the muscles of the face twitch and jump
and the recently staring eyes that saw nothing. Under the bed covers the man's legs were jerking up and down,
up and down, constantly.

Miss Downing saw this and opened the package, the doctor and left.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

Mrs. Baker Exit

MARY drew back from Dicky's grasp with a frightened cry.

"Try to poison you!" she faltered.
"What do you mean?"

"Why I say you," Dicky babbled.
"You came stealing down that stairway from your room to your Auntie's and then out into the kitchenette, where I was watching. You took that pitcher of fruit juice out of the icebox and dropped something into it. You slammed the door in my face and bolted it—
and—"

Hugh Grandland's voice interrupted
him. "How long ago was this?"

"Not five minutes," he answered.
"Then Lee Chow was in time," Hugh said.

"What the devil does all this mean?"
Dicky began, Lillian whirled on him.

"It means just this, friend," she said. "You've put yourself beyond the pale of all self-respecting folks by this last performance."

"I know," Dicky groaned, sinking into a chair and putting his head in his hands. "It is unforgivable. I must have been mad."

"Let us hope so," Lillian said impudently. "We just rescued Mary from the 'teppering cockroach' tonight.
She has been at the cabaret since before midnight, so, of course, it is Mrs.
Baker who tried to poison you and lay the blame on Madge."

"But why?" Dicky asked.

"If she did," Lillian retorted grimly,
"she'd have the best excuse in the world. But I think I'll have the answer in a minute or two. Ah, Katherine," as the little nurse in a hastily donned uniform appeared at the door.

"I thought Hugh would summon you," Lillian said. "Major Grandland said that I was to stay with Mary," she said. "Major Grandland wishes you three to come up stairs to the fourth floor."

Hugh Grandland met her at the top of the stairs.

"I would have spared you this if I could," he whispered, and then he led the way back to the fourth floor room where the woman he had known as Mrs. Baker had lived her lonely, evil-plotting existence.

But there was no stooped, gray-faced, spectacled, lame woman to be seen in that room now. Lee Chow stood watchfully just inside the door, and beneath a light was drawn up a tall, graceful figure with a face which still showed remnants of the wondrous beauty which had been hers.

"Good-evening," she said, "my very dear friends," she said, "it is quite a touching reunion, is it not? We're almost all here."

"Grace Draper!" Lillian Underwood circulated.

The strange woman turned her eyes
on her.

"I think we're finally quits," little one," she said, and all the venom of years of her strange, half-crazed enmity to me was in her voice. "Always before I've failed, thanks to the devoted gentleman at your side, who is only waiting for Dicky to crack or get fired off to make you his own."

"Let her say what she pleases," said
Lee Chow.

Grace Draper tossed him a mocking smile. "Thank you, oh, sapient Chink!" she giggled. "It took one of your race finally to block me. But, as I was saying, Madge, dear, this is the time I hold the flag of victory. No matter if you live with your dear
spouse till your diamond wedding, you'll never forget that he believed you capable of plotting to murder him by poison."

She took a step forward, her eyes widened now with something more fierce than the madness I believed to be swaying her. Her hands went out toward Dicky, her eyes fixed themselves upon him.

"Adieu, Dicky," she said, and her voice pealed through the room. "No, an revoir! You'll never be happy in your wife's hand of heaven. You'd better plan to come down to hell with me."

The last words ended in a twisted gasping cry and she crashed forward and down into Dicky's arms. Hugh Grandland turned me toward the door and walked with me down the stairs.

"What is it?" I whispered.

"She took poison before she opened the door to my summons. She told Lee Chow what it was. That she had taken and he assured me that she was as good as dead."

"I shan't leave you until this is over," Lillian assured me. "Thanks to Hugh's influence, we shall be able to keep you out of it. He will say the truth, that he was on her trail as an escaped criminal—she was that, you know—and that she took poison when she saw the game was up. Look out, Nary!"

The girl was stumbling toward us.

"Oh, Auntie Madge," she wailed.
"What have I done? That woman is dead!"

We got her to bed, but by the next morning she was seriously ill.

One afternoon after Mary's conval-escence, Dicky came into the living room where I was sitting alone.

"I must know what you are going to do," he said abruptly. "I deserve nothing, less than nothing. I know.
But—if you could only forgive—"

"Please Dicky," I said, "I cannot hear to think of that time, much less to talk about it. If I did as I wish where no one could find me, I would amit for Junior's sake. Are you?"

"God help me, yes," Dicky said.
"I want to do whatever you wish."

But when he had gone I echoed his words. "God help us, indeed. We are deep in the quicksands. Will we ever get out of them?"

New Styles in Wicker

NOW that our purchases of reed and fibre furniture have arrived from the recent furniture markets, we announce a display of this light weight type of furniture that is extremely interesting. All the new designs are here, in color effects that will satisfy the most fastidious taste. When you see our low prices you will wonder why so many people are furnishing their sunrooms, living rooms, etc., with reed and fibre furniture from this store. We mention just a few of the unusual values.

3-Piece Upholstered Fibre Suites $57.50

3-Piece Fibre Suite in Tapestry at $119.00

This is one of the most popular designs in a moderate priced fibre suite. Note the comfortable upholstery in richly colored cretonne, with deep backs and spring filled seat construction that means unusual comfort. Many different color combinations to select from in this type of furniture await your choosing here.

Sun Room Tables $9.95

A Davenport Bed Suite in Reed $110.00

For the sunroom or enclosed porch, or for a corner in your living room, one of these tables is most appropriate. Very inexpensive, too!

With this suite you can make an auxiliary bedroom out of the sunroom, for the big davenport has a concealed mechanism, that by a simple motion can transform it into a full size double bed. No one would have any idea that it contained this feature when folded up during the day. A very gracefully designed suite, richly paneled and upholstered beautifully. An extraordinary value.

Fibre Rockers $17.95

You will enjoy having one of these rockers in your sunroom, living room, or even in your bedroom. Colorfully upholstered and very well balanced, it is a rocker you will thoroughly enjoy.

BLAME SPRING LIGHTNING FOR $75,000 BLAZE

Many Lives Imperiled in Ohio
Bronze Powder Co. Fire at Cleveland

Cleveland, Apr. 5.—A series of explosions at the East End plant of the Ohio Bronze Powder Co. early today imperiled many lives, drove several persons from adjacent apartments into the streets and smashed scores of windows and skylights in the immediate neighborhood. Several persons were cut by broken glass.

The blasts were caused by streams of water from firehose striking powder, according to Assistant Fire Chief Nimmo.

Damage was estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000. For a time the flames threatened the adjoining plant of the Jordan Motor Co. and other manufacturing plants. Apartment buildings nearby also were threatened and several families had prepared to remove their furniture when the blaze was brought under control.

Fireman injured.

Fireman George Law was taken to a hospital today for injuries sustained in fighting the fire. One class of another caused a severe hand cut to the fire fighter. At one time more than a score of firemen were kept to the ground by a terrible triple blast.

Lightning during an early morning electrical storm is believed responsible for starting the fire.

The powder plant fire was Cleveland's second serious conflagration within 12 hours. Late yesterday the second floor of the Hixson Building in the heart of the business district was swept by a blaze which caused estimated damage of $20,000. Traffic was tied up for over an hour. Assistant Fire Chief J. H. Grainger was out about the hands when glass, broken by the severe heat, fell from a transom. Three large plate glass windows, also broken by the heat, fell into the street but no one was injured.

FORD CLOSES STORES FOR GENERAL PUBLIC

Auto King's Commissaries To Remain Open to Employees:
Detroit Merchants Protest

Detroit, April 5.—Henry Ford's food stores which last year made a profit of $100,000 and at the same time saved the average family which traded with him from $200 to $300 annually in their living costs were to be closed to the general public today. The Ford stores will remain open as heretofore for all Ford employees.

Announcement that the public would be barred from the Ford commissaries was made last night at a meeting held by the Michigan Retail Merchants Association.

O. N. Standen, head of the Ford commissary division, gave as the reason the fact that "there has been too much business for us to handle."

"In fact the immediate trade has been swamping us, particularly with regard to meats and groceries," he said.

Standen made his announcement following a meeting of the association.

End Oily, Sallow Skin

A little Calomine powder sprinkled on a wet cloth and rubbed gently over the face each night ends shiny, oily skin—puts new life into sallow skin, and cleans the pores of all dust, dirt, and prevents blackheads. It makes the skin feel refreshed and bright, so you will enjoy a good night's rest.

being largely addressed by David A. Bantz, president in Detroit business, and J. F. Padgett of St. Louis, secretary of the Missouri Retail Merchants Association in which they declared that Detroit merchants feared that the millions of dollars in property would be lost if the Ford stores continued to sell to the public.

Ford last year sold $12,000,000 of supplies in his stores and made a profit of $100,000 a little better than three per cent profit.

GIRL SENTENCED FOR PERJURED TESTIMONY

Pleads Guilty for Part in Sending Man to Penitentiary for Life

Harlem, N. Y., April 5.—Miss Marie Jackson, 27, today was under a sentence of five years in prison for having offered perjured testimony which brought a life sentence upon an innocent man.

Marie Jackson pleaded guilty to the charge that she gave false testimony against Conda Dabney, Coal Creek, Tenn., miner, which brought about his conviction on a charge of murdering Miss Mary Vickers, 16.

Dabney was recently pardoned by Governor Fields when Miss Vickers returned here last month.

The Jackson woman, who was given the maximum sentence, admitted in court that she "testified against Dabney because we had a disagreement."

CAST IS SELECTED FOR CENTRAL SCHOOL PLAY

Ninth Grade To Present
"Daddy Long Legs" April 21 and 22

Cast for the play to be given by the ninth grade at Central High School has been chosen and rehearsals are now going on. The play "Daddy Long Legs" will be given in the Central Junior High Auditorium the nights of April 21 and 22. Miss Isabelle Stump is directing the play, assisted by Miss Pauline Kuepp.

The plot of "Daddy Long Legs" centers around "Julie Abbott," who is an orphan living in the John Grier Home. She has talent for writing stories and illustrating them, but her ambition is thwarted by "Mrs. Lippett," the warped, unkind woman of the home. However, in spite of the action of "Mrs. Lippett," "Julie" finally triumphs through the benevolence of an old man, whom she calls "Daddy Long Legs."

The cast of characters includes: Dwight Barger as "Jervis Pendleton," Robert Knauer as "James McBride," Harry Siffitt as "Cyrus Wyckoff," John Costner as "Abner Parsons," Kenneth McDaniel as "Griggs," Lowell Daldeman as "Walters," Violet Doll

6 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE ERSKINE SIX CUSTOM FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

$995 F.O.B. FACTORY

1 All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimming of Bedford cord and broadcloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgently invited and will prove convincing.

2 Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.

3 Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.

4 The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8 1/2 seconds; climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.

5 The car is well balanced, with scientific springsuspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.

6 The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Sixes selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an ERSKINE SIX before you buy any car this Spring

B. KRUSKAMP PLACED ON HIS GOOD BEHAVIOR

Must Report to Sheriff for Six Months, Judge George B. Scofield Rules

B. Kruskamp, convicted last week of assault and battery by a jury in the Marion Pleas Court, was placed on six months probation by Judge George B. Scofield yesterday. Kruskamp was placed on his good behavior for six months, and any violation of the law during this period will result in his being taken down by Judge Scofield to the penitentiary. Judge Scofield had a rule that he said Kruskamp must not take a drink of intoxicating liquor during the six months probation. Kruskamp had filed a motion for a writ of habeas corpus, which was overruled by Judge Scofield.

FIRE DAMAGES AUTO OF EDWARD SHAFER, MARION

Ford Touring Car Almost Completely Destroyed on Agostapark Near City

A Ford touring car owned by Edward Shafer, 1905 W. Centerst, was almost completely destroyed when it caught fire while being driven by Mr. Shafer on the Agostapark, about four miles west of the city, early last night. The blaze started underneath the floor of the car, presumably from a short circuit in the wiring. Shafer ran about three-quarters of a mile to a telephone to notify the local fire department and firemen responded in Chief McFarland's car.

The machine was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. The blaze was extinguished with the fireman's chemical equipment after the entire interior of the car had been gutted. The loss is estimated at $150.

Shafer was uninjured. Upon discovering that the car was afire, he drove it to the side of the roadway where it would not interfere with traffic.

This was the second call received by local firemen within two days as the result of automobile fires on the Agostapark. Sunday night they were called out when the Oldsmobile touring car of Charles Lehman, Chestnutst, caught fire. The damage to this machine was slight.

Marion Youths Triumph in Second Local Boxing Show

TRAINING CAMP CHATTER

Gerry is Given Decision Over Johnny Lee; Jimmy Maloney Wins on Knockout

Harold Williams and Ike Jones Make Good Showing; Williams Takes Four Rounds Against Jack White of Springfield and Jones Gets Draw

By EDDIE SCHENKLER Sports Editor, The Star

LAST night was Marion night in the ring at Eagles Hall. Marion youths won three bouts and drew one. Three of the victors being a knockout. Three of the victims, hailed from Springfield and the fourth came from Akron.

Johnny Gerry, well-known local boxer, defeated Johnny Lee of Akron, in the main go. He got a decision from the judges. Jimmy Maloney led the festivities by knocking Dan Copley of Springfield, cold in the first round. Ike Jones, another well-known local boxer, with Mickey Flanagan and Harold Williams of this city, had no difficulty with Jack White of Springfield. Ray Newton, that blonde terror out of Mansfield, put out Jimmy Caffery's lights in the second round of the semi-final bout. Caffery comes from Springfield.

Gerry Wipes Lee. Johnny Gerry, local boy, the short stacky lad from Akron, but the youth from the rubber city was always there and was still going strong when the final bell sounded. Gerry took the first two rounds, Lee came back for the third, Gerry outpointed him in the fourth, Lee took the fifth, the sixth was a draw, and Gerry had a slight edge in the seventh and eighth rounds. Gerry had things his own way in the first two rounds. He didn't even have to waste his energy. He had little trouble in smacking Lee with his left and Lee seemed to have little trouble in running into the same left. The Akron boy, during the first two rounds, simply rushed and charged into the fore-reaching mitt carried by the Marion boxer.

Lee came back in the third and beat Gerry at his own game. Although he was not armed with the reach which Gerry carried to a great advantage, the boy from Akron led with his left and landed his first clean cut blow of the performance.

Lee Takes Fifth. Gerry had a slight edge in the fourth but Lee again came back strong in the fifth. At the end of that stanza, Gerry was breathing a little harder than usual while Lee looked fresher than ever. The sixth saw an even bout, and the seventh and eighth rounds turned into a slugging fest, with Gerry getting just a few more pointers than his opponent.

After taking punishment before in the first two rounds, Johnny Lee showed himself to be the gamest fighter in the ring last night by coming back like a wildcat for the remainder of the session. He fought with the courage against him and delighted the hearts of the spectators, with his pep and comeback.

Maloney Gets Knockout. Jimmy Maloney, the Marion Wildcat, in at 124 pounds, floored Dan Copley of Springfield who also tipped the Fairbanks at 124 in the closing seconds of the first round. A clean crash on the jaw put Copley out like a lamp. The bell rang on the count of five and the Springfield youth was dragged across the ring to his corner where his seconds made every effort to bring him back to life. But when the bell sounded for the second round, Copley was still curled up on the canvas in his corner, unable to resume the fight. He was carried to his dressing room.

Ike Jones, another Marion youth, came back in the last two rounds against Mickey Flanagan of Springfield, and fought him to a draw after taking the brunt of the punishment in the first two stanzas. Both entered the ring weighing 128 pounds. Ike did nothing in the first two rounds, but attempt to rush his opponent. At every angle, he was met with a wicked left that set him back a couple of paces. He was a little more cautious in the last two rounds and, although carrying the fight most of the way, waited for signs of advance on the part of his opponent.

Williams Wins. Harold Williams, a local youth in at 124 pounds, mauled Jack White of Springfield, for four rounds. White made an attempt at covering himself up most of the fight but failed even in this. Williams had him licked from the initial ring to the final bell. White weighed 124 pounds.

Ray Newton, the low-headed Mansfield flash, crowned his man in the second round of the semi-finals. Jimmy Caffery of Springfield, was his "man," or shall we say "duck soup?" Newton slammed Caffery all around the ring in the first round and had him on the canvas a half dozen times before the bell sounded. If the Springfield lad had any fight in him when he entered the ring, he lost it while he was shaking hands with Newton before the bout.

Newton Victor. He came back in the second round like a mad bull and actually landed a few cracks on Newton. But after he had expended his force for the time being with the rain of blows on the Mansfield youth, Caffery dropped back into the old slumps. Ten seconds later he was lifted from the canvas and carried to his corner. When he came to, it was time to start the final bout. Newton knocked him cold with a multitude of punches to the head.

The boxing show was held in the upper rooms at Eagles Hall and was witnessed by a capacity crowd. Ray Abel handled the semi-finals and finals. Patterson was the third man in the ring during the first three bouts.

"HONEYMOON" WINNER. New York, April 5.—The claim of Honeydew Finnegan of Boston to the featherweight championship was strengthened today by his easy victory over Frankie Fink of Texas in a 10-round bout here last night. Finnegan scored a knockout and had the Texas groggy at the final bell.

There are heroes of commerce. The always ready with the payroll, is one man who, in a struggling business, is

BUCK WEAVER IS ACCEPTED IN SEMI-PRO LOOP

Will Again Play Baseball for First Time Since Scandal Session

Chicago, April 5.—Buck Weaver, former White Sox third baseman, banished from organized baseball following the World Series scandal of 1919, will again play baseball in Chicago, it was learned today.

Weaver, following his signing with a local semi-pro team, was passed upon and endorsed here last night at a meeting of officials of the Midwest League of semi-professional teams.

After listening to Weaver's story, the players having appeared in person before the body, the officials accepted him by unanimous vote.

If Buck felt any bitterness toward those responsible for his removal from the organized game, he did not express it. He reiterated, however, his protestation of innocence. He did say that he believed he should be reinstated, adding:

"Cobb and Speaker were convicted on the same kind of evidence on which they barred me, Eddie Collins, Ray Schalk, Red Faber and many others admitted they gave money to an opposing team, but they are in good standing with organized baseball."

STANLEY SERIES

First Hockey Game For Stanley Cup Comes Next Thursday

New York, April 5.—The Boston Bruins, representing the American section of the National Hockey League, and the Ottawa Senators, winners in the international game, will meet on Thursday in the first game of the Stanley Cup series. The series will end as soon as one of the teams wins three games.

The Bruins reached the finals by defeating the New York Rangers here last night, 3 to 1, before a crowd of 11,000. The winners did all their scoring in the second period.

New Tris?

The impression prevails among followers of the Cleveland team during its southern training grind that George Gorken, rookie outfielder from the Detroit club of the Three Eye League last fall, will play center field for the Indians, the spot left vacant by the departure of Tris Speaker last winter. Photo is of Gorken. Inset is Speaker.

Heydler Expects to Issue Official Call Today and Consider Hornsby Situation

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, April 5.—Rogers Hornsby is being confronted by the New York Giants with a reality of $30,000 a year, but the situation that the fourth estate considered him with magnanimous abandon, it was learned today from a national league man, who indicated that this fact would be used against Hornsby if he staggered into court on the weight of his financial cases. It has been Hornsby's contention these many weeks that he didn't ask to be traded to the Giants and that, therefore, the National League is responsible for the fact that he happens to be a New York player and a St. Louis stockholder at one and the same time.

The League, my informant intimates, will counter with the claim that Hornsby must have wanted to come to the Giants or else he would not have accepted a $30,000 contract here while refusing $50,000 in St. Louis. The point is that this man assigns as making the transfer desirable from Hornsby's standpoint is the oft-repeated story to wit, that Hornsby and the Cardinals had reached a parting of the ways by mutual consent.

Hornsby Satisfied. "Hornsby was perfectly satisfied to go to the Giants and he proved it by signing for $20,000 less than Boston offered him," my informant declared. "He knew when we signed the Giants contract that he had to get rid of his St. Louis stock before he could play in New York. Any man knows that, therefore, why did he set his price at $30,000 a year, a figure at which no one seems to be interested in that price."

It seems very simple to me. The stock has to go. The Indians want to meet the price set; then the price must meet the Indians."

But, on my humble opinion, it isn't as simple as that. This writer might overvalue his week, say at $8.50 and naturally the bidders would be dubious.

Jimmy Smith on Way to Another "Events" Title. Shoots 634-Pin Score in Three Games at A. B. C. in Peoria.

Peoria, Ill., April 5.—Jimmy Smith, twice "all-events" champion in the American Bowling Congress, captured today his first title to repeat his achievement following a banner session with the pins here last night.

Rolling with the Schaefer-Dohman Recreation team of St. Louis, Smith set his still a pace for his teammates when he topped 634 pins in his series. Smith's count was 223-211-198.

The team shot a 2754 score. With two events to his credit, Smith expects to pull up with a third before completing his doubles and singles here this afternoon. Smith won the crown in St. Louis in 1911 and again here in 1925.

The St. A. C. Erie, Pa., team was high on the second squad with 2,045. Eric Athletes, Erie, Pa., 2550; Pontiac Recreation, Pontiac, Mich., 2457; Rock Bowlers, Elizabethtown, N. J., 2227.

The Ottawa Senators were held to a 1 to 1 tie by the Montreal Canadiens at Ottawa, but the Senators won the series as they had captured the first game in a score of 4 to 0.

LARIE

Your tongue says: "Thank you!"

GOOD old Prince Albert in the bowl of your pipe... a cooling current of smoke pouring over your tongue... the wonderful taste of a wonderful tobacco... nothing to compare with this anywhere. Men, I tell you. You can smoke a pipe and enjoy it—with P. A. for packing.

I was pipe-shy for years, before I discovered Prince Albert. I wanted to smoke a pipe. Other men seemed to get so much comfort and enjoyment from pipe-smoking. Then one happy day, Prince Albert crossed my trail. It was cool and kind to my tongue and throat. I've stuck!

No matter what your previous experience has been; no matter how satisfied you appear to be with your present set-up, I advise you to try Prince Albert. You know you are in for some glorious smoke-sessions the instant you get a whiff of P. A.'s fragrance.

The first pipe-load confirms the pleasure promised by the aroma. Cool as an open window. Sweet as milk fresh from the dairy. Mild and mellow as a tropic night. Mild, yet with that full, rich tobacco body that satisfies to the limit. I know you are going to like P. A. Buy a tin today!

P. A. is sold everywhere in 10¢ and 20¢ tins, 5¢ and 10¢ tins, 10¢ and 20¢ tins, and 50¢ and 100¢ tins. Buy it in bulk, too. Buy it in bulk, too. Buy it in bulk, too.

Rift Between Ohio Miners and Operators Grows Wider

LITTLE HOPE REMAINS FOR WAGE PARLEY

Mining Industry in State Will Be Shut Down Several Months, Belief

Cleveland, April 3.—The rift between union coal miners and Ohio operators today was wider, rather than narrower, following an exchange of letters between Lee Hall, president of the Ohio United Mine Workers and S. H. Robinson, president of the Ohio Coal Operators' Association.

The rift remained that the miners and operators could be brought to a conference for settling their differences. The mining industry, in this state, will, as a result, be shut down for at least several months or longer, according to general opinion.

The union of the operators' trade clear in a letter which Robinson sent to Hall yesterday afternoon. He said in part:

"My difference between the union and operators, in the place of Ohio, does not take into consideration competitive conditions, would, as has stated to you before, be futile. I am sorry that you and your members are not willing to participate in a conference that will consider competitive conditions in an effort to formulate a wage scale for the mines of Ohio."

For South Union Men
"I think you will also agree with me."

That it is very important that any wage conference be possible to agree upon a wage scale so that the coal industry can have the assurance of a regular and continuous supply of coal.

The Ohio Coal Bureau today announced figures in support of its contention that miners in non-union districts have been receiving steadily increasing wages and more aggressive wages than those in union districts. The figures concern Kanawha mines in West Virginia, which were operated by non-union men in 1921 and subsequently became non-union.

The figures purport to show that the average yearly income of mine workers was $1,747.25 during the non-union period and $1,739.93 during the union period. The average yearly coal output increased 82,111.70 tons yearly and the average non-union coal output received $2,148.32.

7,000 PERRY MINERS SEEK EMPLOYMENT
New Lexington, April 3.—Seven thousand Perry County miners today began efforts to find other employment, following the collapse of the plans for a wage conference between Ohio operators and miners.

At New Straitsville, where the miners' union was born 50 years ago, the miners declared they had expected little success to come of the peace efforts at this time.

A. E. Fane, former state representative there, declared the miners "have no money, but lots of grit," and announced that a delegation would call on Governor Denney within the next few days and ask him to give miners preference in hiring men for extensive new road building projects scheduled to begin soon in this section.

Many miners were to have found employment already in the pottery plants at Chillicothe and Rossport.

Marion Man Seeks To Place
Chillicothe Man on Board, Dispatch Says

Fred W. Warner, Marion attorney who is chairman of the state Republican central committee, is in Washington for the purpose of urging appointment of Frank H. Mueller of Chillicothe to membership on the federal farm loan board, according to a press dispatch received from Washington today. Warner refused to comment upon the purpose of his Washington trip when questioned by newspapermen, the dispatch stated.

The pending farm loan board appointment is to fill a vacancy created by resignation of Luther Landis, of Wooster, who will leave the government service to become part of a bank.

Mr. Warner is expected to arrive here from Washington, Wednesday,
it was stated at his office here today.

Men Plead Not Guilty
To Charges of Theft Hearing of Charles Martin and Howard Arthur Set for Thursday

Charles Martin, 33, and Howard Arthur, 25, both of 588 Silver st., pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Municipal Court this morning on an automobile theft charge and their hearings were set for 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Martin and Arthur were brought here
from Ironton, Saturday, by Officer Mc-Intire of the local police force and Baileiff Belt of Municipal Court after an affidavit had been filed against them
by Floyd Case, owner of the automobile.
The value of the machine is estimated at $30.

Case claims that the two men took the car from his garage although they maintain that they bought the machine.

So quick!
So easy for busy mothers!
and so good for the children

The breakfast long known to be wonderfully good for children is now easy to prepare. Hot oatmeal! You can have it steaming on the table in the time it takes for coffee.

No longer is it necessary to get up early to start it—or to remember to cook it partly the night before.

For Quick Mother's Oats is prepared in such a way that it needs only 2½ to 5 minutes of cooking.

For growing children especially a simple breakfast of hot oatmeal with milk has the approval of child health specialists. Because normal growth is now known to depend less on quantity of food than kind.

Have this nourishing, easy breakfast tomorrow.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes).

Both with coupons interchangeable with the Aunt Jemima coupons, which are redeemable for games, jewelry, rugs, etc.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1926

THE 80TH ANNUAL REPORT of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, covering operations for the year 1926, will be formally presented to the stockholders at the annual meeting on April 12, 1927. The report shows that in 1926 the company performed the largest volume of public service, and realized the largest gross and net earnings in its history.

The net income for the year amounting to $67,567,958, was equivalent to 13.53% upon the capital stock outstanding.

OPERATING RESULTS

	1926	Increase Over 1925
TOTAL OPERATING REVENUES amounting to.....	$608,817,440	$37,680,487
TOTAL OPERATING EXPENSES amounting to.....	$550,360,578	$23,221,231
LEAVING NET REVENUE of.....	$158,456,862	$14,459,256
Taxes amounting to.....	3,119,163	549,494
EQUIPMENT, JOINT FACILITIES RENTS, etc., amounting to.....	15,913,921	2,725,102
LEAVING NET RAILWAY OPERATING INCOME of.....	$140,423,757	$16,334,759
INCOME FROM INVESTMENTS AND OTHER SOURCES amounting to.....	30,890,236	2,668,146
MAKING GROSS INCOME of.....	$171,313,993	$19,002,905
RENTAL PAID LEASED LINES, RENTALS ON RENTED DEBT AND OTHER CHARGES amounting to.....	7,744,811	3,446,643
LEAVING NET INCOME (Equal to 13.53% on Capital Stock) of.....	$163,569,182	$15,556,262

Improved results as well as favorable business and financial conditions justified an increase in the dividend rate from 6% to 7% beginning November 1926, making the total for the year 6½%. After providing for this payment to stockholders and for sinking and other reserve funds and for all other charges, SURPLUS for the year amounted to $30,270,966.

The successful achievement of the past year reflecting as it did the great prosperity of the country was also made possible by increasingly friendly and effective cooperation between employees and management in rendering the service to the public, and by constructive cooperation with the Company on the part of the general public and Governmental authorities.

WE can't pass along to you all that we've learned in our 78 years' experience. But we can give you a tip worth while.

The secret of success in malt products is purity. Purity in the syrup itself—purity of the container in which it is sealed.

That's why we say—use Schlitz with the "purity guarantee". Schlitz pasteurizes its malt syrup after the cans are sealed; that means that it stays pure.
